

Foreword by the Commissioner	p.3
Editorial	p.7
Chapter 1: Patterns and variations in European industrial relations	p.11
1. Introduction	p. 11
2. The actors	p.13
3. Collective bargaining, social dialogue and concertation	p. 29
4. Europeanisation	p. 55
5. Conclusion	p. 56
Chapter 2: The quality of industrial relations	p. 59
1. Introduction: Why quality?	p. 59
2. Quality and the Lisbon strategy	p. 60
3. Examples of quality in industrial relations	p. 62
4. Conclusion	p. 69
Chapter 3: European social dialogue developments	p. 71
1. Introduction	p. 71
2. A response to three main objectives	p. 73
3. Policy developments: working towards the Lisbon objectives	p. 77
4. Responding to the challenge of enlargement	p. 87
5. European social dialogue as a form of better governance: the trend towards 'new generation' texts ...	p. 90
6. Conclusion: The contribution of the European social dialogue to the Europeanisation of industrial relations	p. 96
Chapter 4: Review of legislation 2002–04	p. 109
1. Introduction	p. 109
2. Labour law	p. 109
3. Implementation of Community labour law	p. 113
4. Health and safety of workers	p. 113
5. Equality for women and men	p. 116
6. Free movement and social security for migrant workers	p. 116
7. The European Convention and Intergovernmental Conference on the Future of Europe	p. 117

Chapter 5: Corporate ownership and industrial relations in the EU: national trends and European policy developments	p. 131
1. Introduction	p. 131
2. The interaction between corporate ownership patterns and industrial relations	p. 132
3. The diversity of national corporate ownership patterns and industrial relations frameworks	p. 133
4. EU initiatives in the field of company-level industrial relations	p. 142
5. Anticipating and managing change at company level: the social partner case studies	p. 146
6. The implications of EU policies on company-level industrial relations in the new Member States	p. 148
Chapter 6: Employment and working conditions in the new Member States	p. 151
1. Introduction	p. 151
2. Adaptability to change	p. 151
3. Social cohesion	p. 158
4. Social sustainability?	p. 163
5. Social partnership as a governance tool	p. 167
6. Conclusion	p. 172
Country abbreviations	p. 173
Useful websites and documents	p. 174
List of tables, charts and boxes	p. 175